Let's review!

Will you do that to others?

Ah-choo!

That's not my trash. It's Baron's.

Why is that dirty tissue on the ground?
Pick it up, A-Di.

Baron, why don't you throw your trash
in the bin?

It's dirty and disgusting. I don't like it.

Will you be happy to pick up A-Di's
dirty tissue?

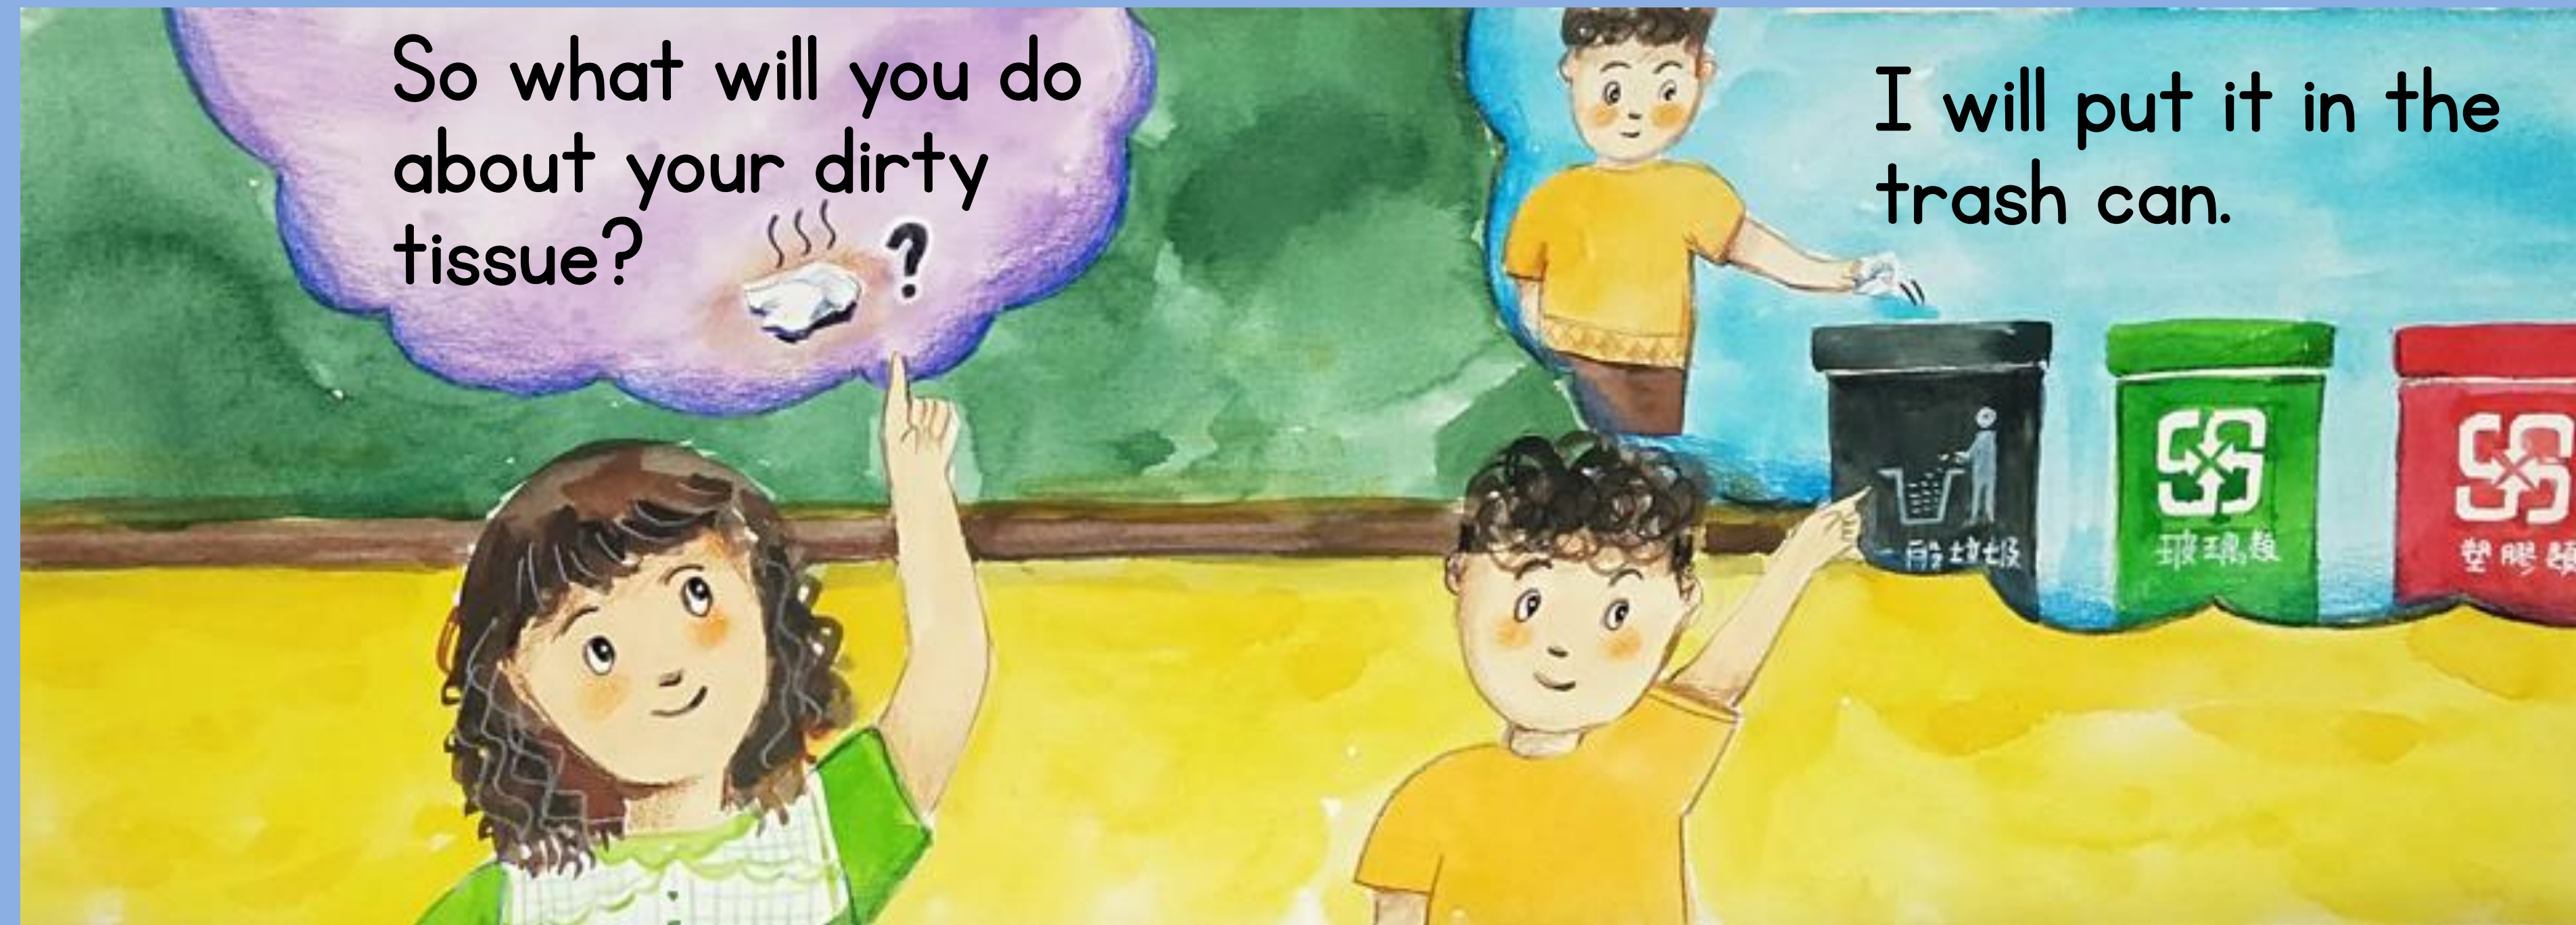

No, I won't. I'm sorry. I should not do that to others.

So what will you do
about your dirty
tissue?

I will put it in the trash can.

It's the lunch time.

Oh, no! I don't like broccoli.

We have lots of fresh vegetables for lunch today.

Oh, no! I don't like carrots.

How can I get rid of the broccoli?
Maybe I should give them to Amy.

How can I get rid of the carrots?
Hmm... Maybe I should give them to A-Di.

Hey, look! There is a butterfly!

Where?
Where is the butterfly?

Hey, look! There is a dragonfly!

Where?
Where is the dragonfly?

Why are there
so many carrots
on my plate?

Why is there so much broccoli
on my plate?

Continue...

Ms. Lin, Amy put her
broccoli on my plate.

Ms. Lin, A-Di put his carrots on my plate.

What is your problem?

An illustration of two children, a boy and a girl, sitting at a green table. The boy on the left has brown hair and is wearing a blue and white striped shirt with a blue vest. He has a sad expression. The girl on the right has dark hair in pigtails and is wearing a red and white checkered shirt. She also has a sad expression and is pointing her right index finger upwards. Above them is a blue thought bubble containing a red carrot and a green broccoli. Two black 'X' marks are placed on either side of the vegetables in the thought bubble. The background is a soft yellow and pink wash.

I don't like broccoli, and I don't like
carrots, either.

I don't like carrots, and I don't like
broccoli, either.

No, I won't be happy. I'm sorry. I should not do that to Amy.

No, I won't be happy. I'm sorry, too. I should not do that to Adi.

Will you be happy to eat your friend's vegetable?

I will take my broccoli back and eat them up.

I will also take my carrots
back and eat them up.

So what will you do
about the vegetables
you don't like?

That's right! We should eat up our vegetables and clean up our own trash.

If you don't like something, don't give it to others.
